Second circular: call for papers

Dear colleagues,

We would like to thank all the colleagues who sent proposals to organize one of the parallel panels of the XVI International Congress of Greek and Latin Epigraphy, which will take place in Bordeaux from August 29 to September 2, 2022 on the theme "Epigraphy in the 21st Century". After receiving and examining all these proposals, the Scientific Committee and the Organizing Committee have selected 13 of them, to join the 7 that had previously been proposed by these same committees. We thus have a total of 20 parallel sections. Their duration is variable, between 2 and 4 hours, which allows us to accommodate between 5 and 10 papers. You will find a list of them on the congress website with the information concerning them (here).

You are invited to submit a proposal for a paper to be delivered in one of these sessions. It should not exceed 20 minutes in length. It can be given in one of the five usual languages of the congress.

Please send your proposal by e-mail to the congress secretariat (Sonia Syllac, ciegl2022@sciencesconf.org) before March 30, 2021. Each proposal must include the name of the proposer(s), clearly indicate the section under which it is to be submitted and contain a summary of no more than 3000 characters (including spaces). The congress secretariat, after verification and validation of the proposals, will send them to the heads of the sections who will make their choice in collaboration with the organizing committee. A response will be sent to the authors of proposals by September 2021.

You will also have the opportunity to offer a poster to present projects and research results. Further information on the requirements for poster presentations will be announced after the section program is set in September 2021.

Unfortunately, the large budget of the conference does not allow us to exempt authors of papers from registration fees. However, we expect to keep the registration fee at about the same level as at the Vienna Congress, i.e. between 100 and 150 euros.

We look forward to welcome you to the Bordeaux 2022 International Congress and we would like to extend to you, dear colleagues, our warmest greetings,

On behalf of the CIEGL 2022 Organizing Committee,

Pierre Fröhlich

President of the Organizing Committee

Milagros Navarro Caballero

Vice-president of the Organizing Committee
